Paws for Thought October 11th

This week I would like us to think about teachers and pray for them. Teaching is first and foremost a vocation – a calling from God to do a very special job. A teacher is not just someone who tells you something; rather a teacher is a person who facilitates the acquisition of skills, the teacher leads out of the person what is already there by the Grace of God.

What are the expectations of children for their teacher? When that question was put to groups of children by John McBeath, one-time professor of Education in the University of Cambridge, they came up with some interesting answers.

They suggested that a teacher is someone who is kind and generous, who listens to you and encourages you, someone who keeps confidences. Once a bond of trust is established, the teacher often becomes the confidant of children in trouble, whether with other children or through stress at home. It is significant that so many of the expectations voiced by children refer to relationships with their teacher. The possibility of making a mistake prevents participation. Yet we all learn by our mistakes. The abrupt put-down by a teacher or of appearing to fail in front of their classmates can have long lasting effects. A sense of humour is invaluable in the classroom. It can defuse difficult situations so long as we laugh with a child and not at them.

All blessings, Anam & Jerry

DOMESTIC ABUSE: “Raising Awareness of Domestic Abuse” is a booklet produced by the National Board of Catholic Women. We all need to raise our awareness of this often hidden but devastating reality which is present, I suspect, in every one of our parish communities. Our diocesan NBCW representative, Margaret Clark (margaretclark123@gmail.com), is happy to supply hard copies..

FAIR TRADE STALL: For those of you who are missing St George's Fair Trade Stall and who wish to support farmers in the developing world, our suppliers, Fairer World, York will deliver goods free of charge or visit the Fairer World shop in Gillygate. www.fairerworldyork.co.uk

CAR PARKING: It seems that some parishioners have been using the numbered parking spaces during the week. We have been asked to remind everyone that the numbered ones are, from Monday to Saturday, for the use of permit holders who have paid for their permits.

We are concerned about finding effective ways to keep in touch with all parishioners, including those who do not use the internet/email/WhatsApp etc. If you know of anyone who may not be aware of what is going on, please take any opportunity to speak with them and pass on relevant information.

PASTORAL MINISTRY CERTIFICATE: If you would be interested in pursuing a course leading to this certificate, please contact Deacon David Cross via the diocese.
