Paws for Thought: 17 Oct

This week I write of the sad and sudden death of Mary. Mary was very much behind this little piece each week. The “Paws” comes from Anam. He was with her when she died. She read Paws avidly and was a great encouragement to me over the last almost 50 years. She had two big things in life one was encouragement and the other was forgiveness. She was always determined that as a priest I would encourage people as she said “you never know what they are going through”. Mary had tremendous wisdom and begged me in all situations to turn to the Lord and ask for guidance. Her second gift was a tremendous power to forgive. She had to forgive me often especially during the lockdown. That was no easy time for anybody, but her forgiveness made it easier for me. I shall miss her tremendously and I know she is with God now and at rest with the rest of her family and my family too. May she rest in peace. Amen.

All blessings, Anam & Jerry

DOMESTIC ABUSE: “Raising Awareness of Domestic Abuse” is a booklet produced by the National Board of Catholic Women. We all need to raise our awareness of this often hidden but devastating reality which is present, I suspect, in every one of our parish communities. Our diocesan NBCW representative, Margaret Clark (margaretclark123@gmail.com), is happy to supply hard copies.

FRATELLI TUTTI: The Maryknoll Office for Global Concerns has produced a handy study guide for individual or parish use of the Pope’s latest encyclical ‘On Fraternity and Social Friendship’. Below is a link to the study guide that can be downloaded and printed.

If anyone is interested in discussing the document through online Zoom meetings please email bulletin@stgeorgeschurch-york.uk
